

Berserk Farmer Hacks His 6 Children to Death

Kills Himself After Fleeing Into Swamp

Carolina Father Quarrels With Wife And Runs Amok

CLINTON, N.C. (AP) — A berserk white tenant farmer hacked his six children to death today, then fled into a swampy woods where he shot himself to death.

The body of the father, Rufus A. King, 34, was found four hours after the bodies of the children, ranging in age from two and one-half to 12, were found sprawled in King's five-room tenant house in the Keener community seven miles north of here.

THE BLACK-BEARDED father apparently killed his children in a fit of despondency, touched off by a domestic quarrel and the fact that his wife had sworn out a warrant charging him with assault.

The children were slain early today, officers said, apparently by their father. King, who had driven his wife from home after beating her Monday, was heard to leave the house early today, then return some time later in a car driven at high speed.

DEPUTIES WHO WENT to the house about 8 a.m. to serve a warrant charging King with assaulting his wife found the battered and bloody bodies.

A funeral home here said several of the children apparently also suffered gunshot wounds.

The stocky, 190-pound King was carrying a .410 gauge shotgun. The broken stock of the rifle was found in the blood-spattered tenant house. Officers said King apparently used it in beating the children to death.

THE CHILDREN were identified as Gracie, 12, Sonny, 11, Melvin, 10, Ruth, 5, Jerry 4, and Susan, 2½ years old.

Neighbors said King was "never known to drink" and has a reputation as a quiet, peaceful man.

Mrs. Ed Hines of Clinton, owner of the farm on which King lived as a tenant, said King had been "an ideal" tenant for the past seven years.

NEIGHBORS SAID King apparently was a devoted father and appeared affectionate. They knew of no recent domestic troubles between King and his wife, Christine Tyndall King, 30, until Monday.

But relatives said that in a jealous rage "about 13 years ago" King had beaten his wife.

TV Sleuths Hunt One Who Tried To Tap Cable

Sheriff's deputies today are continuing their investigation of an incident which disrupted television cable service to Palm Springs for about five hours Sunday.

Preliminary checking has revealed that someone attempted to splice into the cable and had cut it, causing the blackout of service.

Palm Springs Community Television Corp. sent out its entire crew of engineers and workmen to find the break and to lay new cable at great expense, according to Manager Frank Allen.

A complaint will be signed against the person responsible, Allen said.

City and Indian Leaders to Meet

City Council, at an informal meeting yesterday, agreed to meet with the Agua Caliente Indian Tribal Council to discuss different problems facing the two bodies.

The Indian Council asked the City Council for a meeting in a letter through City Manager R. W. Peterson.

Of mutual interest are the problems of annexation of Section 30, flood control, widening of McCallum Way and cleaning up of Section 14.

Two Killed In Crash on Highway 99

Third Reported In Critical Condition In Desert Hospital

Two men were killed and a third is in critical condition at Desert Hospital after a crash on Highway 99 just west of Whitewater early Sunday morning.

The California Highway Patrol identified the two fatalities as Charles W. Hackey, 30, of Los Angeles, and Albert L. Shull, 31, of El Monte.

Undergoing treatment at Desert Hospital for skull fracture and major multiple injuries is Harvey E. Alexander, 51, of Lowell, Ariz.

The accident which happened at 12:35 a.m. brought the death total to 108 in Riverside county in 1956.

CHP officers said that Hackey was apparently killed instantly and Shull was dead on arrival at the hospital. All three men were construction workers in Arizona.

Former Village Chief of Police Dies in Arcata

LYLE SANARD

Lyle Sanard, 63, former Chief of Police of Palm Springs, died of a heart ailment following a long illness at his home in Arcata, Calif., on Sept. 17, it was learned here today.

Sanard was appointed Chief of Police in Palm Springs in 1941, and led the local department for about four years. He replaced Norman Harstead as chief on June 18, and was replaced in 1945 by August G. Kettman.

Prior to his appointment here, Sanard served as a county and state officer for 20 years. In 1920 he was hired as a traffic officer in the City of Riverside, and a year later went with the county in the same capacity. In 1922 he was made traffic captain and in 1923 was appointed inspector for the San Bernardino-Riverside area under the supervision of Highway Patrol Chief Raymond Cato. He terminated his employment with the state on April 4, 1941 because of Peron's rise to power.

He told his news conference Peron won his power as a result of the resentment of the Argentine people over attempts by foreigners to interfere in their internal affairs.

Dulles fired the charge in response to questions on the statement of Dr. Alberto Gaitan Paz, publisher of the famed Buenos Aires newspaper La Prensa, that both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations had been unduly friendly to the Peron regime.

Dulles refused twice to say when or how the Truman administration had intervened in Argentine affairs. He dismissed the questions with the comment that the answers were well known.

The secretary did not say the Eisenhower administration was directly responsible for Peron's eventual ouster but he said it did allow natural force to work toward this end.

Dulles Lays Rise Of Peron to Truman Regime

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles charged today that Truman administration interference in Argentina was a principal factor in dictator Juan Peron's rise to power.

He told his news conference Peron won his power as a result of the resentment of the Argentine people over attempts by foreigners to interfere in their internal affairs.

Dulles fired the charge in response to questions on the statement of Dr. Alberto Gaitan Paz, publisher of the famed Buenos Aires newspaper La Prensa, that both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations had been unduly friendly to the Peron regime.

'Dead' Amnesia Victim Recovers Memory 2500 Miles From Home

PHOENIX (AP)—A pretty Pawtucket, R.I., woman rushed into the arms of her husband today, ending 12 days of anguish in her belief he was dead when actually he was the victim of amnesia more than 2,500 miles from home.

Edward Frank Sandman embraced his wife when she stepped from a TWA Constellation. Sandman disappeared 12 days ago while fishing at Newport Beach, R.I., and had been given up for dead.

Hope had been virtually abandoned for Sandman after a skin diver found his tackle box under some water some 200 feet off shore. His fishing pole also had been washed ashore.

Sandman's fishing clothing was found scattered on the beach.

Monday, Phoenix Detectives Lucien Luckett and Earl Irving noticed Sandman walking along the street in an apparently dazed condition.

Police Capt. Orme Morehead called Dr. Milburn Shelton, chiropractor at nearly Glendale, Ariz., who specializes in amnesia cases, to have a look at the man.

Shelton said he manipulated muscles in the neck and vertebrae for about 10 seconds when he came around and asked where he was.

Shelton said he and the officers told him he was in Glendale, but he refused to believe it, saying: "Oh, come off it, come off it. Is this a gag?"

Dulles said a $10,000 damage suit against the track but accepted a pretrial settlement for $150.

Supervisors Act Despite Court Ruling

Counsel Contends Official Decree Not Yet Received

By THELMA GOODSPED
A re-hearing on a petition by the Desert Turf Club for a permit to operate a quarter horse race track in the Rancho Mirage area, was set Monday by the Riverside County Board of Supervisors to be held Oct. 15 at 1:30 p.m.

Supervisor Roman Warren made the motion for the hearing, which carried three to two, with Supervisors Fred McCall and William Jones supporting Warren, and Supervisors George Berkley and Paul Anderson opposing.

The determination for a re-hearing followed closely on word delivered Sept. 23 to county counsel's office from the Superior Court clerk that Judge R. Bruce Findlay had rendered a decision granting the Turf Club a permit and disallowing the action of the board of supervisors which denied a permit.

COUNTY COUNSEL Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., just returned from vacation, told the supervisors, "I'm a little at sea. The board has no copy of the Court's order. Until we can see the order and analyze it, I cannot advise the board on whether or not a re-hearing is proper."

"It may well be that when the order comes, there will be basis for an appeal. It depends entirely on what is in it. It seems to me the matter is still before the Court. There will be time enough to act when the decision of Judge Findlay is properly in our hands. There will be time enough then to appeal the order or set a hearing."

He said that so far no signed order had come through.

On AUG. 6 THE supervisors in compliance with a writ of mandamus issued by the Superior Court in accordance with an order by the District Court of Appeals canceled their order of March 28, 1955 denying the application of the turf club for the race track.

On Aug. 20 the supervisors unanimously agreed not to hold a further hearing, at the same time voting three to two against a motion by Supervisors Berkley, seconded by Supervisor Anderson, to grant the race track permit.

On Sept. 4, a motion by Supervisors Anderson and Berkley to set aside the refusal to grant the permit and to hold a new hearing Oct. 1, resulted in a tie, with Supervisors Warren and Jones voting against it, and Supervisor McCall absent, and was thereby lost.

ON SEPT. 13, Judge Findlay held a hearing on the matter and took it under consideration. He had at one time upheld the original (March 28, 1955) denial of the permit by the board of supervisors, but his decision had been reversed by the Appellate Court.

On Sept. 17, Supervisor Warren had a change of mind and made a motion for a re-hearing to be held Oct. 8. There was no second and the motion was lost. Supervisors Berkley and Anderson said they thought the time to set another hearing had passed. Supervisor Jones could not second the Warren motion because he is board chairman, and Supervisor McCall was absent.

Then, on Sept. 25, came the decision from Judge Findlay to the effect that after reviewing the law and evidence he had decided the application by the Desert Turf Club should be granted, and on Monday, the board's three to two vote to hold a re-hearing.

IN PRESENTING his motion for the Oct. 15 re-hearing, Supervisor Warren read a lengthy prepared statement reviewing the procedure to date, and stating that it is his understanding that as a legislative body governing the county it is the duty of the board of supervisors to make the determination as to whether a permit should be granted.

Warren said he could not agree with Judge Findlay's decision that the board should grant the race track permit.

Orders Probe Of Date Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower directed the Tariff Commission today to make immediate investigations of date, dried fig, and fig paste imports to determine whether they should be restricted.

He said Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has advised him "there is reason to believe" fig and paste imports during the 1956-57 crop year probably will be imported in such a way as to make the federal fig marketing order program "ineffective."

He said he was advised that prospective date imports during the year are likely to "materially interfere" with the federal date marketing order program, and to cut the amount of U.S. dates processed here.

The local police have alerted local drug stores to be on the lookout for anyone attempting to pass any narcotic blanks in series numbers 14601 to 14625.

Councilman Frank Miller led the fight for preparation and enactment of such an ordinance, but did not receive the undivided support of other members.

The Chamber of Commerce directors last week asked its members to refrain from the use of steer fertilizer, and numerous private residents also have protested its usage.

Driving Showers Break Drouth in Much of Nation

By UNITED PRES.

Driving showers soaked much of the nation today, but by afternoon most areas were expected to bask in autumnal sunshine with mild temperatures.

The gulf states from Alabama west to Texas were hardest hit by the rains. Showers drizzled steadily during the night and into the morning. Montgomery, Ala., reported 2.90 inches for a six-hour period.

The Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes areas also received their share of fall rain. Showers fell steadily early in the day, but clearing weather was predicted by afternoon. From southern New England southward along the Dixie coast to Florida a monotonous off-and-on drizzle engulfed the area.

Otherwise, fair skies reigned from the West Coast east to Detroit and south to El Paso, Tex. The northeastern states were nipped by a light frost at dawn, but temperatures soon climbed to the forties and upward.

The Midwest enjoyed balmy fall winds and warm temperatures. Temperatures in the South were almost hot with early readings in the seventies.

Square Dance Club to Meet

The Stardusters Square Dance Club, newly organized, will hold its first meeting of the fall season at 8 p.m., Tuesday, at the Frances Stevens School, with all square dancers invited to attend.

Osa Mathews will be the caller for the club.

Eisenhower Attacks Democrats On Federal Aid to Education

LEXINGTON, Ky. — President Eisenhower, again using stronger words than he probably ever employed since the 1952 campaign, directly attacked the Democrats Monday night over federal aid to education.

His staff said this was "only the beginning."

The President charged that Adlai Stevenson is apparently confused about education.

HE SAID the Democrats want to lead the nation "back to the old road—the zig-zag directionless road of trial and error." He characterized the Democratic Party as being comprised of advocates of "drifting war and racing inflation."

Mr. Eisenhower repeatedly slugged at the Democrats in a speech at Cleveland for tolerating "the thievery of inflation."

As the President spoke at Lexington, Stevenson issued a statement in Washington accusing the administration of "incapacity or unwillingness" to meet the nation's educational "crisis."

The Democratic presidential nominee charged the administration has "utterly failed to develop a comprehensive national policy on education." And he said the President "sat by" while 96 GOP congressmen voted against his "weak" school construction bill.

MR. EISENHOWER told his Kentucky audience and listeners from coast to coast tuned in to the combined facilities of the Columbia Broadcasting System that expanding school facilities is the "most urgent" domestic problem facing the nation.

The Chief Executive said the serious schoolroom shortage had been reduced somewhat under his administration, but not enough. And he blamed the Democrats in Congress for not providing sufficient funds for school improvement.

Mr. Eisenhower recalled that in the last and Democratic-controlled Congress he asked for a $2 billion program of federal grants and other aids for school construction during a five-year period.

The President also pointed out that he insisted that the federal aid be distributed to states on the basis of need and that the states, themselves, match the federal funds. Congress, however, turned down the President's suggestion.

WITHOUT MENTIONING Stevenson by name, Mr. Eisenhower referred back to the Democrat's criticism of GOP handling of the school problem.

"Now—within the last week—we see the strange spectacle of an apparently confused candidate of the opposition supporting the principles of the bill that we proposed and that his party defeated," the President said.

HARTFORD, Conn. — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, adopting a hands-off policy regarding Adlai E. Stevenson's divorce, today took his fast-moving campaign into New England from the Midwest.

Nixon was scheduled to arrive here from Milwaukee, Wis., to hold a morning meeting before moving on to Manchester for a speech tonight.

THE VICE president appeared on a locally televised panel show in Milwaukee where he was asked about Stevenson's divorce. Mrs. Ruth Murray, president of the Wisconsin Federation of Republican Women, said many women wondered who would serve as White House hostess in event he won.

"I think that any personal life of a candidate is not a proper political issue in the campaign," Nixon replied. "I have never discussed Mr. Stevenson's background or Harry S. Truman's. What reason brought on Stevenson's family difficulties is no concern of mine."

Numerous letters, cards and flowers were received, along with other expressions of sympathy.

The Craig Miller Safety Fund, which was established to promote safety in the community, has now exceeded the $500 mark, with contributions still being accepted at the Bank of America.

The Millers had asked that flowers be omitted, with contributions being made to the fund instead as a memorial to their son.

City Council yesterday decided to act unofficially to repair the foot bridge across Tahquitz River between North and South Riverside Drive.

Action was taken after the city administration received a report that the bridge, used by school children, is in bad need of repair.

Exact responsibility for the bridge has not been found, and it is believed that the bridge was built originally by a developer in that area, and all public bodies have disclaimed any part in the project.

Mr. Eisenhouer recalled that in the last and Democratic-controlled Congress he asked for a $2 billion program of federal grants and other aids for school construction during a five-year period.

The President also pointed out that he insisted that the federal aid be distributed to states on the basis of need and that the states, themselves, match the federal funds. Congress, however, turned down the President's suggestion.

The work would be about 3.4 miles south of Brawley and would include construction of a concrete slab bridge across New River.

There have been changes in the area since then, and the people have a right to be heard. Strenuous and devious efforts have been made to try to render this board powerless by getting the board involved in a legal snarl to prevent us from properly exercising our duty to the people of this county affected by this application."

"It seems to me," he said, "that we have three alternatives. We can grant the permit, be in contempt of court, or appeal Judge Findlay's decision. A hearing at this point will just get us further enmeshed in the law."

Supervisor Anderson agreed. He said he would support either an appeal or a re-hearing in accordance with advice of county counsel after Sullivan has read Judge Findlay's recent ruling.

this thing got involved in the courts?" queried Supervisor Anderson. There was no answer beyond that already given.

Supervisor Berkey said a hearing would now be of no use if the board has no authority afterward to make a determined, but said he would not oppose an appeal of Judge Findlay's decision.

California Electric Petitions City for Permission To Construct Electric Substation at Tamarisk-Sunrise

California Electric Power Company has petitioned the City of Palm Springs for permission to construct an electric substation on a 100 by 150 foot parcel of land opposite Tamarisk Avenue and 182 feet east of Sunrise Way.

This request is being made by Calectric in the public interest, company officials said, and is necessitated by the fact that the area for approximately one-half mile surrounding the proposed substation location has experienced heavy residential growth.

In order to deliver an adequate supply of electric power to this area, a new substation must be built and the company has been attempting for the past four years to purchase land for this purpose near its existing high voltage line, it was explained.

VOLTAGE CONDITIONS in this area are unsatisfactory and with the advent of the winter season and increased population, will become even more unsatisfactory, company officials said. Poor voltage conditions cause flickering lights and faulty operation of electric appliances and television.

The proposed substation is designed to provide this area with a dependable supply of electric power. Its location is underneath an electric line which is already built. The location is desirable because Calectric will not have to build a transmission line to this station since the line already exists.

IF THE COMPANY were forced to build the substation elsewhere in the area, it would have to build a new transmission line through the area to the substation and this, it believes, residents of the area would strenuously object to.

Since 1923, when Calectric built the first electric distribution system to the Palm Springs area, the company has attempted to tailor its construction of facilities to the city's resort character in making these facilities as unobjectionable as possible by screening with trees and shrubs. The company would carry out this objective at its pro-

EDITOR'S CORNER

By OLIVER B. JAYNES

PEOPLE'S KEY TO TRUTH

American citizens are becoming increasingly aware of how much their freedom means to them and what an important part freedom of the press plays in retaining the liberty which they enjoy. They are witnessing the plight of the people of many nations who live in constant fear of a powerful minority. They know, too, that all is lost when the state takes over control of the newspapers.

Sometimes our citizens—and governmental agencies as well—overlook, however, that freedom of the press means not only the right of an editor to criticize and expose but the right to obtain information which the people are entitled to know. To this end, the country's largest fraternity of journalists is sponsoring a strong nation-wide campaign to rip secrecy from public records and meetings of governmental bodies at all levels. Sigma Delta Chi is enlisting the support of the nation's newspaper readers in a program to insure Freedom of Information.

V. M. Newton, Jr., chairman of the committee, has described anti-secret laws as one of the foundations of American freedom. The laws which the society proposes should be introduced in state legislatures would guarantee inspection of public records and bar secret meetings of state, county and municipal bodies. Such bills have already been introduced in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, nia and Mississippi. California adopted a bill along these lines over a year ago. Many states have no laws guaranteeing the right of public inspection.

THE RIGHT TO KNOW

Public records and proceedings are not only essential to a free people but they are the life blood of freedom of information. Without them the people lose the right to know.

In a message on the occasion of National Newspaper Week which is now being observed, President Eisenhower said that "when Americans know the truth, they are strong." Our nation is based on an informed and concerned citizenry," he continued; "when our people know the facts, the decisions they make are for the good of the country.

As President Eisenhower pointed out, the newspapers of America have a great responsibility to present the facts honestly and in the proper perspective. It is also their responsibility to speak fearlessly, he said, on issues they consider to be of local and national importance.

It is the responsibility of not only the editors—but all the people—to protest a trend to secrecy of governmental agencies, commissions and other bodies, and to an increasing tendency of public officials to withhold information which the newspapers have the right to give their readers. The press is the people's key to truth—they should guard it constantly.

The higher cost of living is effective by two separate and distinctly different groups of persons. The one group is that which raises prices every time production costs mount as a result of wage increases. The other group is that which demands and gets a wage increase following every price increase.

One of the best examples of this, of they are in favor of any olfactory whose synthetic endeavors are as effective—and maybe more so, as the present odorous process.

In effect, we can have the green grass all around and still go about our daily chores without wearing a mask such as once popular during influence epidemics.

THEN, TOO, there is that—or, rather, are those—by-products. For not only does stuff permeate and penetrate, it also is the happy breeding grounds for flies and other pests.

Every year since I have been here, it has been the same song. Why do we have to smell bad in the fall?

The "we," in this case, in collective, meaning no offense individually.

But, in this case, as is indicated in letters to the editor, our best friends DO tell us. And without weasel words. Just the facts.

AT LONG LAST, however, instead of just saying phew, we're going to do. But, why not, while doing, REALLY do.

Let's get the scientists on the job. To evolve a new substance which will do a triple duty.

Make the grass grow, exterminate the flies and have a sweet perfume, not the clogging kind, but the delicate fragrance of flowers in bloom.

So when people sniff, they sniff.

HANS OHRT, that intrepid bicycle rider who often has pedaled the 124 miles from Beverly Hills to Palm Springs, was in town this week.

He and Mrs. Ohrt are setting sail via airplane for Australia and the Olympic Games. He's an official of cycling events in the Games and will do some cycling in and around Melbourne.

The Ohrts have cycled in many nations and, only in California, they say, is the beauty of nature so marred by unsightly refuse along the roadsides.

"And you can see it so much plainer from a bicycle seat than from an automobile," he said.

Which reminds me that on Highway 111, north of town, is one of those new state warning signs against dumping garbage by the roadside. Well, it wasn't exactly garbage, but at the base of the new sign were four empty beer cans.

Seems that warning doesn't cover enough ground.

EVERWHERE YOU GO you hear about Palm Springs, it seems.

When Father Bellis of a Long Beach church heard we were from Palm Springs, he said:

"I met some charming Palm Springs people on the boat to Alaska the other summer. Name was Stroh and with them was a vivacious woman who won her flying license when she was 65," he said. "Just can't recall her name."

I quickly supplied that one. Zaddie Bunker.

Opera nodded, but our lady married Joe, who owned a service garage. Opera waited, and I suppose always will.

Lighter Side of Washington

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Bill and I were rolling along in his car and approaching Baltimore. There was a sputter of the motor and Bill said:

"That doggone carburetor again. I think if I goad it, we can make it to Joe's Auto Service down there on Frederick Avenue."

We made it. And who showed up but a lady carburetor fixer. She jiggled the carburetor around and did a little washing of the parts and finally said:

"It's all fixed."

I ASKED HER name. She was roughed of lips but rather greasy of hands. She said she was Mrs. Charlotte M. Arbelada, wife of the proprietor. Could we talk someplace?

She said, sure. So she doused her hands in something called "skin guard"—a protector of tender hands, and we went into her house next door.

SHE CONFESSED that she had been helping her husband, Joe, for a long time, but never could conquer the job of adjusting a carburetor. So she saw an ad where a factory service school in St. Louis, outfit named Carter, was inviting a bunch of lady mechanics to sit in and learn.

Charlotte went and finished the course.

Over coffee she became relaxed. And she told of the struggle she and Joe had raising three children. Leah, the eldest, was smart enough to win a scholarship at SMT. John's College in Annapolis. Joe, Jr., is 16, but little Johnny, aged 10, is the mechanic among the youngsters. He works in his folks' shop, cleaning spark plugs.

"Joe gets 25 cents a chore," Charlotte said, "but he charges us 15 cents extra a job. He says that's for his trouble. But the boy loves it."

I ASKED THE hed-hair'd mother of three what about the delicate hands. Then I looked around the small living room and saw a baby grand piano.

"Is that yours?" I asked. It was of ancient vintage. Charlotte melted little, blushed and said "Yes, it is."

"Let's hear you play," I said. She sat down for a few moments and did a little Chopin, some Paderewski, and some religious songs.

Turned out she is director of her church choir here, and also the organist. Sort of a labor of love, but she gets $650 a year. That calls for one service a week. A choir rehearsal, thrown in.

Charlotte once had a nice mezzo soprano voice.

Opera nodded, but our lady married Joe, who owned a service garage. Opera waited, and I suppose always will.

NEW YORK — Out in Pittsburg, U. S. A. (Hollywood), many of the stars now have pool-shaped kidneys. Herb Polesie flashes me . . . Henny Youngman, who has a yen for Liz Taylor, wishes she'd hurry and marry Mike Todd, so he could have some dates with her.

Phil Silvers brought Comic Joe E. Ross all the way from Honolulu for a part in "Sgt. Bilko" and the latter, absent-mindedly going out for coffee in his uniform met a citizen who said, "Hiya, hero, when you gettin' out of uniform?" Replied Joe E.: "Right after this rehearsal!"

Down in St. Pete, the Haughton Co., which makes power mowers, has the slogan, "When ya gotta mow, ya gotta mow" and adds: "This is a non-profit organization . . . we didn't plan it that way, it just happened." W. Bruce Haughton found humor has paid in business. When he stated he had no credit. So in trying to buy products on time, P. S. ed "If you look us up in Bradstreet's . . . we're 'Done.'" He's had good credit since. Guess the suppliers got a charge (ac-count) out of it.

BILL RASHALLUnedited

If you ever see a tall man, not too thin and not too fat with a slightly protruding proboscis moving about the city of Palm Springs there shouldn't be any trouble in recognizing Windy Grif.

He is just about the best guy that breath was ever blown into just before he gave his first welp on arriving here on Earth.

He is a benevolent sort of a guy willing to give to those from whom he will never receive in kind. But he gives just the same. Windy as most of his friends know him—I believe they've forgotten his first name as I have—is going back into business here in Palm Springs. At one time immediately after the last World War he was owned what is now known as the Desert Camera Shop, now owned and operated by Marty Kenyon. Windy needed that business just about like you or I need a hole in our heads so eventually he sold it. In Los Angeles he has a block-long building that houses his W. G. Griffith photo finishing plant. This plant employs no less than 100 persons.

WELL, NEXT WEEK or so, Griffith is starting a "pony express" master photo finishing service through the Valley which will include Palm Springs. If you hand your films in to your nearest or favorite film distributor before 3:30 p.m. every day you'll be getting them back the next day. In addition to black and white film finishing, Griffith is doing color as well.

I'm not plugging for an old friend of mine but if you want fast film service visit a dealer who is affiliated with the Griffith organization in Los Angeles. You'll like the work.

And that wasn't a gag about Eddie Jackson in the last column about his fear of swimming pools. Talked to Eddie who actually took a plunge in the Davis Manor pool and he explained that years ago Aunt Jemima pushed him into the water and the experience dampened his desire for water more than a foot deep. But he went into the swimming pool here and had a swell time doing it.

THE LARGEST personal fund—take off your hats, gentlemen—came all the way from Noel Clarke of the Ranch Club. He gave a big chunk of money $400. Imagine that? And George Rasmussen of the Western Wear store opposite El Mirador came up with his $50 as he had originally promised, and was the first one to declare that "we must save Western Week and put me down for $50."

We should have more public spirited citizens like Larry Finley of Hollywood, who as you must heroin read—in not a citizen of Palm Springs. Nevertheless, this fine man with a heart just as big as all, came all the way down here for a five-hour broadcast on Saturday afternoon knowing full well that he would have to take off for Hollywood at 4 a.m. Sunday. He had to go into a rehearsal for his Channel 7 show the same day. Thanks ever so much Larry. You're a grand guy and you did a fine job in the broiling sun stopping the man on the street and graciously beginning for contributions. Thanks again from all of us and to KPAL for providing the facilities.

THAT GUY DAVE Lyons—if I didn't love the man I'd kick myself all up and down Palm Canyon Drive. Sure enough of all the places I had mentioned would open somewhere between Oct. 1 and 5, I had stated I might miss one or two openings it had to be the Saddle and Sirloin, I did miss. Dave called to say "Well, I'm calling you?"

He put that in the form of a question and I didn't catch on until he called again two days later to inform me that the Saddle will be open Oct. 4. This marks its 12th year the Saddle has been in operation under one management. A dozen years call for some sort of a celebration and Unedited may be a little dampish by the time losing time rolls around at The Saddle and Sirloin next Thursday.

By the way, that fellow Joe Pine is sailing along in grand fashion at the Ranch Club at the managerial helm of that institution of fun, food and good music.

PEOPLE IN THE vicinity of Sunrise and Tamarisk are up in arms over the proposed location of an electrical substation there by the California Electric Power Company. Petitions are in circulation against the project as an unsightly structure; citing that it would interfere with radio and television reception and that it isn't the proper location in an area where so many nice homes are located. I live in the same neighborhood and therefore I too

By JEAN PATANE

Mrs. Tom Anderson and two of her three boys, Jay and Chris, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. R. Hill and her three children Laray, Johnny and Danny, of Palos Verdes, went on a five week camping trip through the Gold Country, on Highway 49, named in honor of the 49ers.

The children were particularly interested in the Historical plaques and stopped to read each one along the colorful route.

Taking Highway 89 through Oregon and returning via the Redwood

Highway they picked wild blackberries, enjoyed the various foods the areas were noted for, including the savory seafoods in abundance along the Coast. They returned in time for the children to start to school.

Tom Anderson, associated with

Hoams Construction Co., had to remain in Rancho Mirage due to the demands of business.

Jim Rounds is in the process of moving his Cabinet Shop into the new building on Highway 111.

Harry Breton, who moved to Rancho Mirage "May 1 has purchased a new home at 2694 East Veldt. Swiss born, he has studied in design and trade construction schools in Switzerland.

Al Anderson of the Rancho Mirage Realty Co. announces the new addition, the "Grandview Unit" of the Rancho Estate Sites will be offered to the public shortly. Also of interest is that the contract has been let for twenty additional deluxe custom homes with swimming pools on which construction will begin in two to three weeks. Rancho Mirage Realty Company also announces that offices in Los Angeles, Long Beach and Pasadena will be in full operation in the not too distant future.

Dean Lowe, building contractor for the Dancing Waters Hotel, Motel and Restaurant, anticipated to be one of the most beautiful and elaborate in the area and to cost about $500,000 dollars, reports that construction will start within a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Crowell of Vista, have purchased a home on Magnesia Fall Drive and expect to be at home in the desert before long.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Vale of Westwood, bought a new home on San Geronimo Road.

Style Luncheon Proves Popular

The phone is ringing consistently at the Palm Springs Ranch Club this week as Palm Springs hostesses are making reservations for the first style show luncheon of the fall season that will be held at the Ranch Club on Friday.

Clothes from three Palm Springs shops, the Beachcombers, Beebees and Lanz, will be modeled by Barbara Foster's models, during the luncheon showing.

Through a typographical error the luncheon price was announced as $2.50. Actually it will be $2.25. Reservations may be made by calling 5061.

Buy Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dailey of 641 Ocotillo Avenue have as houseguests Mr. and Mrs. Mark King of Wayne, Michigan. The Kings like Palm Springs so well they bought a home here and Mrs. King is flying back to Michigan in a few days to pick up their three children.

Visiting Mert Haskell, of the Palm Springs Airport, over the weekend was Dr. James C. Doyle of Newport Beach. Dr. John Williams and sister Corma Marx from Beverly Hills.

Boys and Girl Staters to Address Dinner Tonight

Boys and Girl Staters will be the speakers this evening when Owen Coffman Post of the American Legion and the Auxiliary hold a joint dinner meeting preceding their regular sessions.

Mrs. Margaret Schuler, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Schuler of 1551 Buena Vista, represented the Auxiliary of Palm Springs and Desert Hot Springs at Girls State in Sacramento in June. There she was honored by being chosen as one of California's two representatives to attend Girls' Nation in Washington D.C. in July. Here she toured the capitol and learned about the processes of government, meeting such notables as Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles and United States Treasurer Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest. Peggy will tell about her experiences when she addresses the dinner meeting tonight.

Peggy has also been elected president of the newly organized 21st District Girls' State Alumnae, which will hold a meeting here sometime in December. Buzzy Rosin, last year's Girls State representative, is vice president of the new group.

Other speakers will be Gary Waters, Gerald Greenfield, Allen Miller and Roger Williams, who attended Boys State in Sacramento. Special guests at the dinner will be High School Principal Henry Greeley, a representative of the

Ford to Unveil 19 New 1957 Models At Ben Cowan Ford Wednesday, Oct. 3

For the first time in its 53-year history, Ford Motor Company will produce two sizes of Ford cars, the company announced today. The 19 new models to be unveiled by Ford dealers Wednesday morning will have the highest performance ever offered in the low price field.

Ben Cowan Ford is the local dealer.

R. S. McNamara, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said the 1957 Fords "represent the biggest change in the modern history of the Ford car."

The new Ford line divides into two basic sizes, Fairlane and Custom, plus the station wagon series, each with its own body and chassis. In addition, the Fairlane series has been expanded to offer "Fairlane 500" models, which have extra luxury features.

THE 1957 FAIRLANE and Fairlane 500 sedans are nine inches longer and four inches lower than last year's comparable models. Custom and Custom 300 sedans are more than three inches longer and nearly three and one-half inches lower than the 1956 models. Station wagons are three and one-half inches lower and nearly six inches longer. Fairlanes and Fairlane 500's are built on a 118-inch wheelbase. Station wagons, Customs and Custom 300's have a 116-inch wheelbase.

"There has been no sacrifice of headroom inside the car, in spite of their reduced height," McNamara said. "The new frame extends to the sides of the car, and this permits the floor to be lowered inside the frame rails.

"The design and styling are new from the ground up. Every dimension has changed. Wheels, frame, rear axle, drive shaft, engines, and every inch of sheet metal in every body style are definite departures from past models," he explained.

RIDING EASE has been greatly improved by using a longer, wider frame with lower pressure tires on wider treads, and employing redesigned ball-joint suspension in front and outboard-mounted longer leaf springs in back. Because there is not more length ahead of the rear axle, front end dip on quick stops is checked better than ever before.

which give Ford increased performance.

Ford's new styling starts with wide hooded headlights and a forward slanting grille, and includes streamlined wheel openings, a windshield that wraps further around the sides for better visibility, distinctive fins at the rear, and contoured sides that give the car a sculptured look.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK — Ask Casey Stengel what's different about the Dodgers and he'll growl "that there Sal Maglie," but actually the 1956 Dodgers and Yankees both are different in several ways from the two teams that clashed in the 1955 World Series.

Those changes make it extra tough for anyone to pick the series winner, too, especially when you recall the Dodgers won last year's classic by only a 2-0 score in the seventh game.

Here's how the Dodgers stack up against last year's American League champions.

PITCHING Southpaw Johnny Podres, who beat the Yankees twice, including that 2-0 shutout in the clincher, is in the Navy and no reliable lefty has replaced him. But Maglie, the 39-year-old curveballer, has been added and he was credited by the Dodgers themselves as the "man who won the pennant for us" by winning 13 games. Don Newcombe is the big winner at 27 victories and hasn't the sore arm that sidelined him last fall. Relief aces Clem Labine and Don Bessent are as sharp as ever.

HITTING: Not as strong as last year with only Junior Gilliam in the .300 average class. Roy Campanella, bothered by injured hands, dropped to a .219 mark. But Duke Snider set a club record with 43 homers and Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges both flashed their old power and Don Bessent is as sharp as ever.

FIELDING: The "old pros" have slowed up somewhat but compensate by "playing the batters" superbly. Sure-handed, pressure-proof, they made few errors in rush to the pennant.

HERE'S HOW the Yankees compare with last year's team:

PITCHING: Stengel admits having a "problem." Southpaw Whitey Ford (19-6) is top winner but may have to work in little Ebbets Field where Dodgers usually clout lefties Johnny Kucks (18-9) and Tom Sturdivant (16-8) have emerged as new big winners as lefty Tommy Byrne has faded, but they're regarded as uncertain quantities against Dodger power. Loss by Ford in the opener could put Stengel in a pitching hole.

HITTING: Stronger than last year with 52-homer Mickey Mantle and 26-homer Hank Bauer minus the leg injuries that hobbled them in '55. Bill Skowron .308 has taken charge at first base and Gil McDougald .311 has been a strong, steady hitter.

FIELDING: Shortstop Phil Rizzo is gone, but McDougald has taken his place to play as least as well as Phil did in recent years. Outfielding better, again because Mantle and Bauer are hale and hearty.

Taylor, Waldorf Take New Look at PCC Football Future

SAN FRANCISCO — Football in the Big Ten is going to have the upper hand on the Pacific Coast Conference as long as the athletes get superior coaching in the prep schools, as long as the schools have greater personnel depth, and as long as the athletes continue to be older than those in the Pacific Coast Conference.

COACH CHUCK Taylor of Stanford and Coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf of California put their heads together and came up with that conclusion after both took beating from the Big Ten on Saturday.

"I looked at the Michigan State roster and found that the average age of the Spartans was two and one-half years older than the members of my team," said Taylor. "That's because they have the five-year rule there. And they don't count junior varsity games against eligibility."

TAYLOR WENT on to point out that the youngsters in the Big Ten states also get better background. Asked if the conditioning was better in the Big Ten, Waldorf replied:

STOCKTON Calif. — Al Wilcher, 121, Los Angeles, outpointed Donny Ursua, 116, the Philippines, 10.

MORRISON ON GOLF

Don't Hit Before the Downswing

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

THERE'S NO MYSTERY about the strange things you do when you have a golf club in your hands. The explanation for everything is quite plain when you look in the right direction. Naturally you'll never see it by looking in the wrong direction.

Today's suggestion offers a good example. Don't hit before the downswing. It's silly even to suggest this. You know very well that hitting before the downswing wrecks any shot. The strange thing is that countless golfers do it so often.

OBVIOUSLY you will tighten up before striking the ball if you don't know the proper technique. Even if you do some distraction or pressure may make you jump the gun. You may give in to this pressure when first gripping the club or taking your stance. If you don't take the club back too fast you may tighten up just before starting your downswing. Locking in any of these stages spells failure for your downswing.

"But I don't realize that my hips or my wrists have locked until after I've missed the shot," you declare.

This is where I would have you go to work on your own mental and physical processes.

Organize yourself about thinking and doing just one thing at a time. When first placing your left hand on the club make sure that all of your attention is focused on this one simple job. In golf.

© by King Features Syndicate Inc.

Jimmy Thomson, formerly golf's longest hitter, shows good form in his backswing, indicating that he is not making the common mistake of trying to strike the ball before the downswing. Form and timing does it.

Like manner attend only to each stage of your swing in the proper order. When you've made this a habit your tendency to be influenced by distractions or pressures will be minimized. Then you'll know what you are doing and not be subject to an uncontrolled imagination.

This is your biggest job in golf.

Duke Snider Former Compton Mail Carrier

Duke Snider was a postman, Compton residents remember. And one has a very vivid memory. He is Clark Wallace, Desert Trailer Village who was postmaster of the Compton Post Office at the time.

"IT'S NOT a matter of conditioning—it's a matter of depth and experience.

In intersections with the Big Ten this year, the PCC lost all four encounters.

This week Stanford plays Ohio State and Southern California tangles with Wisconsin—and both appear to have a 50-50 chance to win the year before.

Since the Brooklyn hero has raised himself into the higher brackets, he no longer carries mail. Since 1951, that is. But before he was a regular on the route.

And Wallace, his former boss, and all his former patrons will be watching him in the World Series.

Here Tomorrow!

came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low... that it takes the bumps without a bubble, the curves without the pitch... and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet... stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swi-pick control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Fords library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never be-

Tourist Travel Increased, All Year Club Says

This has been a good summer in the Southland's tourist business, the All-Year Club reported today.

Both the number of visitors and the amount of money they spent were up over last year, according to W. Herbert Allen, president of the community tourist organization.

A total of 1,671,710 tourists came here from other states and foreign nations during the summer months of June, July and August. This was up 4.9 per cent over the summer before.

While here they spent $182,943,110 which was a 3.3 per cent increase.

Tragic Mistake Ends in Death

MASSILLON, Ohio (UPI) — A tragic mistake ended the life of a 39-year-old woman here when what she thought was drinking water turned out to be sulfuric acid.

Mrs. Carol McCray became thirsty while visiting her husband, John, 40, at his plant. He told her she could find paper cups and drinking water in a workroom.

A moment later there was a cry from the room. Mrs. McCray had removed the lid of a jar and drunk the acid. She died an hour later in city hospital, unable to speak.

LONDON (UPI) — John Patrick Walsh smiled at the judge today and said "it felt great, just great."

Walsh said he came home tired Thursday night and looked forward to watching TV. When he turned on the set nothing happened. So he called a taxi, hauled the set to the shop where he bought it, and tossed it through the window.

Walsh paid 20 pounds $56 damages to the shop and one shilling 14 cents to the court for malicious damage.

U.S. auto manufacturers sold 759,422 station wagons in 1955, more than double the sales of such models in 1954.

KOBE, Japan (UPI) — Seventy-year-old Tobei Yoshimura sued his barber for $83 today for trimming his mustache when he fell asleep while getting a shave.

Yoshimura complained that his "beauty was impaired" and he lost sleep because of the ridicule of his friends. However, he feared he may lose his case because the mustache may grow back in before court convenes Oct. 9.
